About the ManageFirst Program

The ManageFirst Program is based on input from the restaurant, hospitality, and foodservice industry, as well as the academic community. This program can enhance your students’ learning and develop a new generation of managers to lead the restaurant, hospitality, and foodservice industry.

This program includes a set of textbooks, exams, instructor resources, certificates, a credential, and support activities/services. Each textbook focuses on a specific topic, dedicated to helping students master a set of competencies. The program validates students’ knowledge in these key competencies and identifies them as qualified professionals ready to begin or advance their careers in the restaurant, hospitality, and foodservice industry.

Instructor/Proctor Registration

You must be registered as a ManageFirst Program Instructor/Proctor to access ManageFirst instructor resources (including exams) or to proctor a ManageFirst exam, even if you previously have registered as a ServSafe® Food Safety and/or ServSafe Alcohol® Instructor.

Please Note: Please refer to the ServSafe Food Safety section of ServSafe.com for information on becoming a ServSafe Instructor or Proctor; and the ServSafe Alcohol section for information on becoming a ServSafe Alcohol Instructor.

Instructor/Proctor Renewal

Once a year, at the end of August, all registered ManageFirst Instructors and Proctors will be sent a renewal notice. Renewing is as simple as logging into the website to verify or update your contact information (mail, phone, email address, etc.) and letting us know which ManageFirst materials you plan to use in the next school year or training session. The Association will then be able to share information with you throughout the year regarding program updates, services, or events.

About the ManageFirst Program Examinations

The number of questions on each ManageFirst Program exam is proportionate to the quantity of content for the matching ManageFirst textbook. Independent panels of industry representatives with expertise determine the number and distribution of questions across chapters for each title’s exam.

The expiration date for each exam appears on the exam cover page. Always print exams directly from the ManageFirst website just before administering the exam to obtain the most current version.

You should never use an expired exam.

To successfully pass a ManageFirst Program exam, an examinee must achieve a score of 70 percent.
Scoring and Certificate Information

Receiving Score Information

Print Once the Exam Processing Department receives the exams for grading, the class number will be sent via email to the instructor/proctor. Exam scores will be available within three to four business days from this time.

Online As soon as the instructor grades the online exam, examinees may log in and view their scores.

Examinees Upon completion of grading the exams, examinees who provided a valid email address will receive notification that their results are available online.

Designating a Certificate Distributor

Individuals authorized to distribute certificates to examinees include:

- Examinees’ instructor or proctor
- School administration official
- Association or its designee*
- Examinee’s employer

*You may only designate this agency if you are an employee of the Association.

ManageFirst Professional® Credential (MFP)

Examinees can check their progress toward earning the ManageFirst Professional® credential on the ManageFirst® website, in the same location where they view their exam scores.

Exam Security

Definition and Responsibility

Exam Security—Protecting the exam; related processes, and persons from any operational risks associated with the development, publication, storage, transfer, and administration of the exam. Exam security is the responsibility of everyone involved in and impacted by the exam process. This includes, but is not limited to:

- National Restaurant Association, American National Standards Institute (ANSI), Conference for Food Protection (CFP), other CFP exam providers
- Subject matter experts who write and review exam items
- Vendors (printing, data destruction, service providers)
- Instructors
- Proctors
- Course and exam-sponsoring organizations
- Employers
- Regulatory, law enforcement, and government agencies
- The public
Responsibilities for Instructors and Proctors

Please review the following policies and procedures related to exam security that you will be required to follow as a ManageFirst Program instructor or proctor:

- Follow the exam administration guidelines in this handbook (including how to handle exam irregularities), and stay current with changes to procedures.
- Organize and administer all exam location activities and procedures to ensure secure, standardized exam administration.
- Maintain exam security, report security breaches, and cooperate with any security-related inquiries.
- Ensure the integrity of the exam by not:
  - Discussing, publishing, or sharing any information including actual ManageFirst Program exam questions/answers with anyone at any time (especially examinees).
  - Administering the exam to yourself, to anyone who might pose a conflict of interest (e.g., a relative) or an exam security risk.
  - Use information gleaned from an exam to teach a course. Exams are for examinee testing use only!
  - Falsifying or tampering with exam answer sheets or score results.
  - Leaving exam materials unattended or outside of the secured storage area.
- Return all appropriate exam materials within two business days from the date of the exam or grade the online exam within one day of proctoring.
- Ensure there is one proctor per every 35 examinees and/or one proctor per exam room (in the event that more than one exam room is needed).
- Identify each examinee accurately to prevent a situation in which someone may attempt to take the exam on someone else’s behalf.
- Maintain documentation on conformance of exam location to the Association standards.
- Treat all examinees in a fair and equitable manner.

Assistant exam proctors are responsible for observing examinee behaviors and assisting with exam administration duties. An assistant exam proctor should be present when:

- Testing more than 35 examinees
- There is more than one exam room
- The primary exam proctor leaves the exam room for any reason

Security Violations

Any incident perceived to damage the security of the exam will be investigated by the Association. This includes, but is not limited to:

- Distribution or sale of exam content and other confidential information
- Exam fraud cheating
- Assisting or taking the exam for an examinee
- Lack of exam security before, during, or after administration
- Misrepresentation of identity
- Failure to follow the procedures in this handbook

Investigations are launched within five business days of notification of an alleged violation. If there are no issues with the investigation, resolution typically occurs within 30 days or less. If issues arise during the course of an investigation, it may take longer.

During the course of an investigation, the Association has the right to suspend class scoring, as well as proctor and instructor privileges. Proctors, instructors, class sponsors, and examinees who are notified of an investigation are expected to expediently and honestly cooperate with all requests for information.
The Association reserves the right to revoke an examinee’s certificate based on any action that compromises the validity, reliability, security, or integrity of the ManageFirst Program exams. The Association reserves the right to audit ManageFirst Program classes and exam administration. The Association has the right to issue warnings, probation, or revoke instructor and/or proctor privileges based upon the outcome of an investigation and/or at will.

Appeals Policy

Any examinee who is denied eligibility to sit for the exam, failed the exam, had an exam terminated due to cheating, has had a certificate revoked, or any proctor wishing to appeal an action resulting from an investigation may appeal the decision by submitting an Appeal Request Form within 30 days of the initial incident. The Association will review and render a decision within 30 days of receipt of the form. This decision is final.

The Exam Security Department

As an instructor or proctor, you are not alone in maintaining and monitoring the level of exam security involved in the administration of the ManageFirst Program exams. The Exam Security Department is available to assist you with any issues you feel may threaten the security or integrity of the exam.

You can reach the Exam Security Department at ServiceCenter@restaurant.org (you must include “Exam Security” in the subject line) or call 888.291.6462 (the Exam Security Hotline).

Exam Location Standards

Locations must conform to all federal/state/local legal requirements for safety, health, and accessibility for all qualified candidates. Keep documentation on file about locations and the conformance of the location to the following standards:

- Permits all examinees to perform to their highest level of ability.
- Fire, safety, building (including codes regarding smoking), and occupancy codes in the local jurisdiction.
- Adequate lighting, heating, cooling, ventilation, writing surfaces, and seating.
- Acoustics (allows examinees to hear instructions clearly).
- These items are prohibited at the exam location: bags/purses, books, papers, cell phones, and any electronic device that can be used to capture/record exam content. In the event an examinee brings any of these items to the exam location, they must be collected prior to the exam administration and placed in a location that prohibits their use during testing and keeps items inaccessible even if the examinee needs to temporarily leave the exam location (e.g., restroom breaks).
- Basic calculators that are unable to capture/record exam content ARE allowed during the exam administration. NOTE: Graphing calculators and mobile phones are NOT allowed during the exam administration.
- Accessibility for disabled examinees (e.g., wheelchair accessibility).
- Ability to monitor the examinees and the exam booklets at all times and do not leave either unattended.
- Sufficient spacing between each examinee in actual testing area, or other appropriate and effective methods to prevent any examinee from viewing another’s responses.
- No charts, posters, or other materials that might be sources for exam answers.
- Availability of this handbook on your exam date for easy reference.

Print only The four-digit Exam Form Number (available on the exam cover page) must be posted in a visible area of the exam location, as well as the following information about obtaining scores: “To obtain class tracking and score information within 15 business days of your exam date note the class number (available to the proctor once the exam is graded) and keep it for your reference. You will need this class number to log on to ManageFirst.Restaurant.org to check exam results.”
Online exam only A computer with Internet access, mouse, and keyboard should be available for each examinee. Not required but recommended, is a printer connection for providing printed pass/fail information upon exam completion.

Online exam only Make sure the class access code is available in a secure place, which only the exam proctor can access.

ExamIrregularities

If any of the irregularities described in this section occur during the exam, note them in the “Irregularities” section of the Exam Information Form for print exams or in an Irregularity Report for online exams. If you encounter an irregularity not listed here, please call the Association Service Center during business hours.

Cheating

If you are certain beyond a reasonable doubt that someone is cheating, use your discretion to notify the examinee(s) that the exam session is concluded for them. They will not receive a score, must collect their personal belongings (including their photo IDs), and leave the exam location quietly.

Print Collect the exam materials and write “VOID” in very large letters (preferably in black marker) across the examinee’s exam answer sheet. Be sure to include the exam answer sheet when you send the materials in for grading. Provide as much information as possible on the incident on a separate sheet of paper and attach it to your Exam Information Form.

Online You can suspend the exam before or after requesting they leave the exam location.

Emergencies

Print If an emergency occurs during testing (events over which you have no control—e.g., fire alarm, flood, storm, power failure, etc.) that prevents examinees from completing an exam, take appropriate measures to maintain security during the event. When possible, return to the exam location and continue.

Online If an emergency occurs during testing (events over which you have no control—e.g., fire alarm, flood, storm, power failure, etc.) that prevents examinees from completing an exam, close the browsers and shut off the computers with the assistance of the examinees as quickly as possible if the conditions are safe. Ensure that everything has been shut down prior to leaving the exam location. Note this occurrence by submitting an Irregularity Report.

When possible, return to the exam location to continue the exam. You will resume the exam following the same process used to begin initially the exam.

Illness

Print If an examinee becomes ill during the exam, collect the examinee’s exam materials. If the individual returns before the end of the exam, return the examinee’s materials so he/she may complete the Exam. If the individual does not return to complete the exam, he/she will need to retest at another time. Keep his/her exam answer sheet so it may be used for retesting.

Online If an examinee becomes ill during the exam, close his/her browser. If the individual returns before the end of the exam and you have not yet graded the class, take him/her back to the “Welcome Examinee” screen to re-enter the seat registration number. You will then need to re-enter the class access code. Anything answered previously has been recorded; the examinee can proceed to the question where he/she stopped. If the individual does not return to complete the exam, he/she will need to retest at another time.
Restroom Breaks

Print Only one examinee at a time may go to the restroom during the exam. Collect the exam material before the individual leaves; return the same materials upon the person’s return.

Online Only one examinee at a time may go to the restroom during the exam. Examinees should close the browser before leaving the room. Upon return, take them back to the “Welcome Examinee” screen and have them re-enter their seat registration numbers. You will then need to re-enter the class access code. Anything answered previously has been recorded; examinees can proceed to the question where they stopped.

Retest Policy

A retest may be given at any time after the original exam has been officially graded by the Association. Students can retake the exam as many times as needed until a passing score is obtained.

Print The examinee will need to contact Pearson Education (see page 4 for contact information) to purchase a new ManageFirst® exam answer sheet to retest. Instructors/proctors can download the exam from the Instructor Resource Area available through ManageFirst.Restaurant.org.

Online The examinee will need to contact Pearson Education (see page 4 for contact information) to purchase a new ManageFirst online exam voucher prior to testing. Instructors/proctors will need to create a new online class (see pages 13-14).
